L-Methionine 500 mg 100 Capsules
70610

L-methionine is an essential sulfur-bearing amino acid. In the body, it converts to L-cysteine and therefore is potentially beneficial in liver detoxification and in neutralizing toxins. It has been shown to reduce histamine release, and support healthy copper and lead serum levels. L-methionine is considered important for liver fat metabolism, healthy skin and nails, and energy production. Free form amino acid, high purity, well tolerated.*

Each capsule contains:
L-Methionine 500 mg
Other ingredients:
Cellulose, stearic acid.

Suggested Use:
As dietary supplements, one (1) capsule one to three times per day between meals, or as directed by a healthcare practitioner.
