Vitamin B-Stress

Description
B-Vitamin complex with the vitality of Siberian Ginseng and the synergy of coenzymes.

Usage
This product provides many essential B Vitamins, which are precursors of coenzymes involved in the conversion of cellular energy, manufacture of hormones and proteins, and repair and maintenance of nerve structures. They also function as lipotropics which converts fats to other useful products. Vitamin C provides antioxidant protection for many of the body's' important enzyme systems. White blood cells utilize Vitamin C to help produce cytotoxic enzymes which they use to eliminate foreign matter. It also helps strengthen collagen, a major connective protein. Vitamin C also plays an important role in the P450 enzyme detoxification system. Combined with the mental and physical vitality which Siberian Ginseng provides,*
