BPH Complex

This herbal supplement was designed to support prostate function and the male reproductive system.

Who would benefit from this supplement? Men with benign prostatic hyperplasia, elevated PSA levels, impotence.

Phyto-Tech™ BPH Complex contains the following herbs: Saw Palmetto Berry, Fresh Nettle Root, Red Root, Sarsaparilla Root, Fresh Turmeric Root, Dong Quai Root.

Phyto-Tech™ BPH Complex is actually designed for use as a male prostate tonic to help prevent benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH) that is common to most men in mid-life and on. It will help reduce prostate swelling, keep testosterone healthy and help maintain a healthy libido. It also helps the dull ache, urine dribbling, weak urine flow, waking at night to urinate and can help men who have the inability to maintain an erection.

For those who actually have BPH, Phyto-Tech™ BPH Complex will help bring the prostate back into a healthy state and help reduce all the symptoms that accompany BPH.

Phyto-Tech™ BPH Complex can be used as a long-term tonic. It is a good idea for most men to treat their reproductive tracts annually with Phyto-Tech™ BPH Complex once they are over 50 years of age. This is when most prostate problems arise. Using Phyto-Tech™ BPH Complex for 1-2 months once per year is a wise male preventative treatment for maintaining a healthy prostate throughout a life. Since prostate swelling is so prevalent in society, it makes sense to use this male tonic as a preventative.
