Saw Palmetto

Saw Palmetto contains fatty acids believed to inhibit the conversion of testosterone thought to be responsible for prostate dysfunction. Native American women historically used the Saw Palmetto for premenstrual needs and to support lactation.* Our Saw Palmetto is standardized to yield 80 mg (25%) Free Fatty Acids per capsule.

Each capsule contains 320 mg Saw Palmetto (Serenoa repens) Extract (berry) and 80 mg free fatty acids.

Additional Ingredients: rice powder, gelatin, water, magnesium stearate.

As a dietary supplement, take 1 capsule daily with a meal.
