[Product Description]

Lion's Mane is a mushroom with unique appearance. It has long cascading tendrils, hence it is also known as monkey's head or bear's head. Recent studies support its traditional use for promoting healthy digestive and immune system functions*. However, more promising is its ability to stimulate synthesis of the Nerve Growth Factor (NGF), which may protect nerves in the brain and body from deterioration associated with the aging process*.

Super Lion's Mane contains both the whole fruit body of Lion's Mane and its high-quality extract.

Also it contains an extract of Maitake D-fraction® (TD-Fraction®) and Bioperine®. Maitake D-fraction® helps maintain healthy immune functioning*. Bioperine® is a pure piperine extract obtained from black pepper fruits which significantly enhances the bioavailability of various nutrients*. Reishi is a versatile mushroom most favored in China for healthy life*.
