NOW® is pleased to introduce Stabilized Acidophilus, a real-time lab tested acidophilus. Because some strains of acidophilus are more stable than others, scientiests have developed a proprietary method that optimizes growth medium during fermentation. This method uses specific fermentation and drying techniques to insure that each batch of stabilized acidophilus contains the hardiest strains of this important probiotic. In addition, substantial averages are incorporated to guarantee full potency at room temperatures for the entire life of the product. Finally, stabilized Acidophilus is packaged in glass for maximum protection from moisture. Get your customers the best - Stabilized Acidophilus from NOW®.
