Garlic's reputation has continued to flourish over the past decade, thanks in part to the wide range of long term health benefits it supports. But not all garlic extracts are the same. Many are damaged during extraction, while others contain preservatives that can interfere with its natural healing compounds. Ours is grown in the mountains of California and Oregon, and processed via a quick, cool-dry method. This ensures that every serving of NOW Pure-Gar retains all of the natural goodness and ingredients of whole fresh garlic.*
